Tax and Financial Incentives

Trusted and independent tax and financial incentives boutique

Frederico Mendes & Associados is a tax and financial incentives boutique that works with public and private entities, across all industries, in order to maximize the return on investment in innovation, internationalization and research and technological development.

We provide expert and independent advice needed to design, implement and manage investment projects and strategies that foster growth and profitability and build competitive advantages through innovation, technology and expansion in international markets.

Combining expertise in the field of tax and financial incentives, with an in-depth knowledge of the challenges of sustainability, energy transition and digital transformation, our consultants provide the market with an integrated set of solutions in the definition and implementation of innovation, internationalization and research and development projects and programs.

From long-standing Associates to the most junior team members, everyone excels in their specialties. The team at Frederico Mendes & Associados is made up of the best professionals, ensuring high-quality solutions for every project.

Benefiting from deep knowledge of the challenges faced by knowledge- and technology-intensive companies, we are uniquely positioned to incorporate relevant trends and complex matters in the sectors we operate in.

We believe in a personalized approach to every project we are involved in. In this sense, we structure our approach to ensure that our consultants work closely with each of their clients.

We are fully focused on tax and financial incentives, providing our clients with a unique set of knowledge and expertise in this field.

Over the past few years, we have developed a unique set of tools and approaches fully dedicated to the integrated management of investment projects.

Like many of our clients, we are also entrepreneurs. As entrepreneurs, we understand that each project presents its own unique and distinctive challenges.
